Moving Forward: What motivated me to Travel?

I was leading a busy professional life as a stockbroker with my everyday work. I am passionate to travel, but something was holding me back. One day I questioned to myself...

What is actually stopping me?

'Fear', The answer was 'NO'

'Money', The answer was 'YES'

'Time', The answer was also 'YES'

One thing was good I came to know the problem. Working as a stockbroker for so many years, I learned one thing, 'If you know the problem, half the problem is solved.'

I started researching, and I decided to find ways and means to travel. I discovered that there were so many beautiful places around the world where people like to tour and travel, why not me? One idea clicked my mind, 'Why not start a travel blog and share with the world about my experiences?'

I thought, 'hey it's a cool idea to work on.' I started gathering facts about 'How to start a travel blog and earn money online?'

This is how I launched my Blog. Click Here!

1. Travel the World for Free.
2. Travel the World on Low Budget.
3. Earn Money While Travelling.

Thanks for being together! Let's start the journey.

Tips and Tricks: The Ultimate Guide To Travel The World For Free

Unlocking these great ideas for all of you so that you get inspired to travel.

I remember the day when I decided to start my travelling journey. I don't have big savings in my Bank. It was like a dream for me thinking to explore the world for free. Some of my friends and family members were even shocked to hear me saying ' I am soon starting a bone voyage to travel the world for free'.

Those surprised faces are now reading my travel blogs regularly. Few of them also tried these life hacks that I applied to travel the world for free.

So, here is the big deal!

I am going to talk about two topics:

1. How to travel the world for free
2. How to travel in low budget without breaking your bank.

Interested, right?

Ok, Keep reading and I am with you until the end to explain and share everything about my experience in this regard.

Let's begin...

Introduction

Let us understand clearly the difference between free travel and low budget travel.

I met two types of traveller during the course of time. Some people find options to travel cheap with discounts and deals. For them, some tons of websites have offers and discounts when you book flights and hotels. Thus, you can travel to your dream destination in low budgets. However, these travellers fall under the category who can effort travelling.

The second category of travellers don't have money but want to explore the world for free. 'Lol! I was once falling under that category.' It means these travellers look for free accommodation, transportation and food, all free! Crazy! Right?

It is not a crazy idea. It is actually possible to travel the world at Zero Cost. Yes, I am not kidding! It is a fact and there are tips and tricks that help you to do so. However, keep in mind that when you opt for free travelling options it cannot be full of luxury and comforts. Yes, you need to sacrifice something, but you get a lot in return.

First Idea for Free Travel: Find an Overseas Job

Isn't it a simple and easy idea to think? Sometimes it happens that we have ideas in front of us but we tend to overlook them. Whatever background and professional experience you carry along, getting a job overseas is not a difficult task. You need to be mindful and do some basic research to become successful. First, decide what are your key strength and competencies. Secondly, select the country or continent you want to explore. Thirdly, start your research based on the above two criteria.

Based on my life experiences, I have listed down below ten options or ways to work overseas. These jobs are easily available and there is always a demand for these professions. Once you join a particular job, you get free food, room and can easily avoid any visa complications. Read this list carefully and see where you can fit yourself. As I mentioned earlier, don't look for comfort if you really want to see this beautiful world for free. There are so many places to visit and unlimited options and ways to explore them. Why not do that when you can?

- Become a Dive Instructor.
- Yoga Teacher
- Work in a Casino
- Work in Ski-Resorts
- Find a job in a yacht.
- Work in a restaurant
- Work as a Bartender

So, here is a list of jobs. If you ask me, I was working in Ski-Resorts as a staff member helping tourists visiting Switzerland. That helped me to explore Switzerland, the majestic Alps, great natural views, swiss chocolate, yes, I enjoyed and tasted all.

Finding an overseas job to travel the world for free is just one of the idea, but there are more...

Let's move on and read what are the other ways to travel the world for free.

Second Idea for Free Travel: Teach English

If you are from any English speaking country or you are really good at English, you can utilize this skill to travel the world for free. Sometimes it happens that we don't recognise our own potential and fail to explore ourselves properly. Don't let it happen as the more you think, you will find ways to achieve your dream and goals.

English Teachers are in high demand in many African and Southeast Asian countries. Countries like Thailand, Bali, Cambodia, Vietnam, etc. in Southeast Asia are in demand for Volunteers who can visit and teach this beautiful language. Tons of overseas jobs are also available where many organisations, NGOs are looking for qualified English teachers. You can also make huge money teaching English overseas as most of the jobs comes with a handsome stipend. You also get free food and accommodation. If you have a TEFL degree, it acts handily in some cases. In case you are overseas and finished all your funds, apply your knowledge in English and you can earn handsomely. This earning helps you to stay and explore the place worry-free.

In case you want to start using your English speaking skills right away, you can become a virtual teacher. Some websites are available that pay you to teach English online. If you are keen to know more, keep reading my Blog.

Third Idea for Free Travel: Work in an Organic Firm

Have you ever heard about WWOOF? If you haven't, keep reading.

World Wide Opportunities on Organic Farms or WWOOF is an amazing platform that opens the door to travel the world for free. This is one of my favourite way I travelled to many beautiful countries. I explored many parts of Italy working in an organic firm.

Here is the great website of WWOOF. Click Here! And register yourself as a member.

Once you are through the initial registration process, you can work in an organic firm around the world. In return, you get free lodging and food. Isn't it a great way to explore a destination for free? Although you need to pay a nominal registration fee and in return, you get tons of excitement and memories to cherish forever.

The website also allows you to choose the destination, so check them out and go for it!

Fourth Idea for Free Travel: Stay for Free

Don't start scratching your head reading this. But yes, you can stay for free without spending a single dollar. Accommodation cost is huge and adds up to your travel budget. Many people give up their dream to travel and explore the world because of this. Although it sounds impossible, in reality, there are ways to stay for free.

I will share with you the names of some great websites that connect you with local families. You can easily stay with these local families for free. You get room, food and there are other benefits. Some local families also allow you to share meals, tickets, gears, etc. Moreover, you also get an opportunity to learn about their culture.

Fifth Idea for Free Travel: Become a House Sitter

Do you have any idea about House Sitting? This is an amazing way to travel around the world for free. There are so many people around the world looking for your help. Sometimes, they go out for vacation leaving their pet behind. In some cases, it's just taking care of their house in their absence. You can stay in their houses and enjoy the destination worry-free.

Are you thinking how to find a house sitting job? There is nothing to worry as tons of websites are available for that.

The Final Call

You cannot stop yourself to explore this beautiful world.
Why should you?

Is there any strong reason to do that?

Think yourself about these questions.

There are plenty of options and ways to travel around for free. What you need is a passion to travel. If you love travelling, you can easily explore the beautiful rivers, mystic mountains, roaring volcanoes and tranquil ocean.

Just close your eyes and imagine the natural beauty surrounding you.

I insist everyone take a final call towards your life. Listen to your inner soul and follow your passion. There is nothing to worry as you find people alike during your journey.

My life is like a rolling stone gathering no moss...
